MINING EVENTS

New Veins Are Being Opened and Improved Machinery Installed.

J. W. Mouser, of Evansville, registered at the New Marion Times, by with Wm. H. Temme, of the Fannie Mines.

The Messrs. Haury and George M. Taylor have purchased the mineral lease on the Marion Board place. This place contains 224 acres and has five well defined veins of zinc ore and spar.

L. C. Elson, of Louisville, an assayer and who is associated with the Union in the mining business in the upper part of the state, was in the city this week making some investigations of the mineral resources of this district.

Attracted to this district by its mineral product exhibited at the St. Louis exposition and mentioned by the information contained in the neat and attractive folder distributed at the exhibit by the Kentucky Fluor Spar Co., Mr. T. Chestnut, of Old Orchard, Mo., recently arrived here to investigate the mineral resources more fully. He spent a part of this week and will return to the district. Notwithstanding the unfavorable conditions of the weather Mr. Chestnut was impressed with the value of our resources and intimated his intention to return later.

At the Ada Florence, the Leander Marion Mining Co. is installing machinery. Through the winter season the company will drive a deep shaft, running levels at intervals and looking out the ore thus facilitating its removal when spring opens and the hauling becomes easier. The shaft is now 85 feet deep and is constantly revealing rich ore. Levels have already been opened and one at the depth of 40 feet was opened for a considerable distance showing clearly that the fissure extends south-west. This is an entirely new fissure as it cannot be associated with any known vein.

On the Leander White place the Leander Marion Mining Company is operating what is called the Friends mine. A prospect shaft was sunk to a short depth from which a drift was driven into rich floor spar containing small nuggets of lead. The company is now sinking a deep, permanent shaft. As is this company's manner of operation at their other mines in this district, this shaft will be driven to a considerable depth through the winter season and the ore will be looked out which will greatly facilitate its removal when spring opens. This is a true fissure vein known throughout the district as the Marion Break.

What this district most needs, and what all other districts and counties more advanced than our own have and enjoy, is not merely new leaders and new ideas so much as a proper stimulation of our own energies, and the cooperation of our own ideas to a degree of success not as yet attained or thought of, but if new leaders should be found, or if it be already among us and recognized of us, we are still lacking in the essential feature mentioned.

With this stimulation, and with the advantages soon to accrue to us by and through the efforts of our new and old citizenship, there will come other ideas, additional desires, to be advanced and fulfilled.

We have been lagging and lagging too long already. Opportunities lost cannot be replaced, but by recognizing and acknowledging the lessons taught us by what has gone before, we can the better take care of future opportunities.

We must at once awaken to the many undeveloped advantages of this city and district, which to the thinking mind are apparent on every hand, and by a realizing sense of their existence and worth, we shall reap some of the benefits which by right of prior knowledge and possession are ours, but which can only be possessed and enjoyed by vigorous effort properly directed.

The degree of success of an idea or movement is dependant upon and proportionate with the degree of application of the principle involved or effort expended in its propagation.

No other county has, perhaps, enjoyed greater natural advantages or resources than ours since the discovery of the wonderful richness and great abundance of our minerals, lead, zinc and fluor-spar, and the existence of which was so little known or appreciated by the world at large until recently.

This knowledge has finally passed to the outside public, first, through the efforts of a few of our most energetic and public-spirited citizens in making a modest mineral display at the St. Louis Exposition, and second through the recent

PROF. J. E. WRIGHT

Comments Favorably on Crittenden County Commercial Club.

Prof. J. E. Wright, of Louisville, who is at present associated with the State Geological Survey corps, was in the city last week. We had the pleasure of an interview with him, and he stated that he had kept up with the course of events and recent developments in the district through the published accounts in the papers.

He has noted with considerable pleasure and satisfaction the considerable interest displayed, both here and elsewhere, in the new Commercial Club, which has evoked favorable comment in a number of newspapers owing to the success which has crowned the effort to organize for the purpose of advancing the interests, bettering the conditions and benefitting the people of this district, without which organization our advancement would be slow to a painful and tortuous degree.

Prof. Wright says that much interest is manifested in Louisville, and doubtless other points as well,

When I drove out over the district the first thing that attracted my attention was the bad conditions of the county roads, and, of course, this is the first impression received by every prospective investor that comes into this district.

"The State Geological Department and all public spirited citizens desire the fullest possible development of our mineral resources. More or less foreign capital is necessary to develop every district, but foreign investors first of all consider the feasibility of getting the mineral product on the market. They do not like the idea, nor is it satisfactory to local investors, to be shut off from market through the winter and spring seasons on account of impassable country roads.

"It will be best to build pikes. This will mean more money to the country people, for they can have the hauling to do the year round. The county will get the revenue from this source, and for this reason pikes will really be better for the county than a belt railroad. And it seems that before the fullest development can be obtained it will be necessary to have either the pikes on the belt or short line railroad, which could only tap a few of the leading mines."

Walker—Wheeler.

Albert Walker, of this city, and Mrs. Ada Hillyard Wheeler, of near Freshonia, were united in marriage Wednesday.

The bride is a daughter of the late Frank Hillyard and the widow of the late Ed Wheeler.

The groom who has also been married is the son of Earl Walker, of the Chapel Hill neighborhood and until recently he was the local agent for the Magnet Laundry, of Evansville. The bride and groom are well known and have many friends.

Marriage License.

efforts and combined knowledge and application of our new and old citizenship in organizing a Commercial Club. Happily for us this uniting of the new and old idea of the worth and possibilities of the district has taken place without a hitch or tremor, and in perfect harmony with prevailing conditions and future prospects.

Now let us one and all join our hearts and persons with the new commercial club, and when through its efforts it shall begin to reap what has been sown, then we may say that we have been contributors to the success of the movement and have a perfect right and privilege to enjoy its fruits.

Bowling Party.

The following couples contested for the prize at the Bowling Party Tuesday evening: Miss Ruby James and Ott Tucker, Miss Mattie Davis and Ott Tucker, Miss Henry Haynes, Miss Leola Wilborn and Ira T. Pierce, Miss Nellie Thomas and Kay K. Kevil.

The prize, a box of Gunther's, was secured by Miss Ruby James and Ott Tucker. Score, total 290.

In the contest for the season prize Trice Bennett is leader this week with a score of 255.

in the organization of the Crittenden County Commercial Club, the interest being centered particularly in our mineral deposits, and that with the awakening of our citizens, on the county neighbors and the residents of other towns in the district, much foreign capital will be drawn to the district through organization and by judicious advertising and press comment. Also that by the drawing of capital into our midst, the capitalists themselves, or their agents, will be influenced to either locate here or to assist in the development of the district along general lines, by reason of which Crittenden county can quickly take a place alongside of the more advanced or most progressive counties within this or any other central or western State, that we, who are residents here will be benefitted in many ways, not at present even dreamed of by the most imaginative, through the proper development of the natural resources of our county.

AN ERA OF ECONOMY

FOR LATE FALL SHOPPERS

ONLY the best is good enough, and true to our policy we are still giving the best for the least money. We have made tremendous triumphs in trade by selling satisfaction with every purchase made of us, and our efforts are more and more appreciated. We have the real necessities of life at real necessity prices; full value for every penny is given; we have no bait but quality, and merit our big trade by keeping goods the people want at the prices they want to pay; they get the values, we get the business. Our pleased customers please us, but we are always reaching out for more customers. We want your trade, but not unless we can give you as much and more than you can get elsewhere for your money. Doing beats promising; we'd like to prove to particular buyers that we are interested in our customers to the extent that we save them money.

FLANARY. We are authorized to announce J. F. Flanary a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Crittenden county, subject to the action of the Republican party. Election 1905.

HICKLIN. We are authorized to announce William Sherman Hicklin a candidate for the office of sheriff of Crittenden county, subject to the action of the Republican party. Election 1905.

FOR ASSESSOR

DAVIDSON. We are authorized to announce Joseph Anthony Davidson a candidate for the office of assessor of Crittenden county, subject to the action of the Republican party. Election 1905.

THE SUNSET OF PARTISANISM.

The Republican party is gradually growing stronger in Kentucky. At the recent election the Democratic plurality was reduced to 11,893. As compared with the gubernatorial campaign of last year, this is a decided gain for the Republican party. The full vote cast was as follows:

|                 |         |
|-----------------|---------|
| Democrats       | 217,170 |
| Republicans     | 205,277 |
| Populists       | 2,511   |
| Prohibitionists | 3,400   |
| Socialists      | 3,082   |
| Social Labor    | 596     |
| Total Vote      | 435,225 |

The Goebel election law, as it was intended to do, practically put the Republicans out of business in this State. This was followed by partisan courts, packed juries and biased judgments, which lost to the Republicans every contest. State offices were filled more or less with a set of cheap politicians and grafters. The ancient history of the Calhoun fever and the State printing, and the recent history surrounding the Heifer case, with the officers of the Western Kentucky Asylum as chief actors, all furnishes the background for the above assertion.

But that the future will be different from the past we believe. The reversal of the Powers trial and the victory given the Republicans in the Ninth district and the howling Green circuit by the recent decisions of the court of appeals, is a demonstration of the fact that partisanship cannot live and that it does not permeate the decisions of all the State courts. Our arrival at this stage in the present political chapter, and the fact that the life of the cheap politician is short, is basis for the belief that a better day is dawning.

AKIN TO ANARCHY.

We are surprised at this time and colorless expression of opinion from the Paducah News-Democrat, whose editor occupies a position of highest responsibility in Kentucky and National Democratic organization.

It is tipped that tangle-towers will get a new trial and that the court of appeals will reverse the death sentence of the lower court. This hatchet-faced Mesphisto ought to be long. He is the man who organized the whole conspiracy to kill William Goebel. The infamous scoundrel has lived too long since that damnable deed. Have convenient limbs all been off the trees in Kentucky?

What are Mr. Woodson's objections to burning at the stake? Are they merely sentimental, or do they involve practical consideration? Gov. Hardy, of Indiana, will see in such an expression cogent reasons for surrendering Gov. Taylor to Kentucky justice. —Louisville Herald.

We would suggest that Woodson, Congressman Hefflin and Gov. Vandaman form a brotherhood of vituperation, or a society to be known as "The Agitators of Pre-civilized Ideas"—akin to anarchy.

Driven to desperation by the flood of applications for his recommendation, Hon. John W. Yerkes, who is supposed to control the patronage in Kentucky, has adopted this form of reply: "Fourth-class postmasters are not removed unless it is proven they are incompetent, inefficient or dishonest, or voluntarily resign, or involuntarily die." —Paducah Register.

Joe Wood, Secretary of Commercial Club, Rock Hill, S. C., in a letter to the Manufacturer's Record, published in Baltimore, voices the sentiment that the greatest drawback to southern development is the politician. He says we ask only to be freed from him and his disturbing influences and to be allowed to go on our way, solving our problems by the light of intimate and dearly-bought experience, elevating our citizenship and maintaining it upon a basis of intelligence, conservatism and concern.

The Hefflin-Woodson-Vandaman brotherhood are about to have their force augmented by the august person of Jno. Sharp Williams. At his recent utterances in the South an independent paper says:

Our Southern exchanges are discussing the foolish speech recently made by Mr. John Sharp Williams at Spartanburg, S. C. Mr. Williams said that Congress is going to cut down Southern representation and he advises that at the next election the South choose the same number of representatives as at present, that these apply for seats, and on being refused that the entire Southern delegation withdraw and refuse to participate in the national councils pending a settlement by the Supreme Court the only authority he proposes to recognize. It seems impossible Mr. Williams should seriously suggest such a program. Nothing would do more to strengthen the Platt bill than such a threat. Perhaps it is one of Mr. Williams' humorous outbreaks. If the Platt bill is seriously and fairly discussed, it will be beaten, but if it is met in the way indicated by Mr. Williams it might pass.

Court House Cleanings.

In the county court Monday the will of the late L. A. Weldon was probated and Marshal Weldon and J. F. Dodge were named as executors. The report of the commissioners on the R. R. Gregory motion to change Memphis miles road was confirmed and a greater change was made. The road will be made to pass through the Griffith place.

Mrs. Foster Threlkeld qualified as administratrix for her deceased husband's estate.

Sheriff Jas. W. Lamb's tax collections for the month of November broke all records for a month's collection in this county. It amounted to $13,452.30.

Scott-McConnell.

Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, Rev. R. T. McConnell, of Tolu, and Miss Clement Scott, of Kuttawa, were married at Fredonia, Ky. Rev. Reed officiating.

Shortly after the ceremony they started for Tolu where they will reside.

The bride is the accomplished young daughter of Wm. Scott, a prominent farmer living near Kuttawa.

The groom is the pastor of the Tolu church of the Methodist church and is widely known, is a native of this county and has relatives and many friends in this city, all of whom join in extending to the bride and groom our heartiest congratulations.

We handle nothing but first class goods in every line. M. Cornua.

HEAD BLOWN OFF

Walker Flanary Meets Horrible Death in View of Companions.

Walker Flanary, aged 16, a well known youth of Southland, was accidentally shot and instantly killed Saturday morning while hunting geese at the head of Green Island near Smithland.

He and four or five other boys about his own age had been out some time, and young Flanary had set his gun against a log to smoke a cigarette.

While thus engaged some geese appeared and he eagerly seized his gun to take a shot at them.

In so doing he tripped and fell over the log and the gun was discharged.

The head of shot tore off one finger and penetrated his face under the eye, tearing the top of his head off.

His companions ran to him, but state that he never moved a muscle or spoke. His death was instantaneous.

The deceased was a nephew of R. L. Flanary, of this place, and was a son of the late E. C. Flanary, who was formerly sheriff of this county.

Mrs. Margaret Asher Dead.

Mrs. Margaret Asher, wife of Circuit Court Clerk Jno. G. Asher, died Tuesday morning of tuberculosis at her home in East Marion after suffering many months.

Mrs. Asher is survived by a husband and five children, Mrs. Fred Casner, of Shady Grove, and Curtis, Willie, Samuel and Eva who are all at home. Mrs. Asher's maiden name was Brown and besides husband and children she is survived by several half brothers and sisters and four full brothers, John, Daniel, Sanford and Fred, all of this county, and prominent farmers. She also has one full sister, Mrs. Rola Wood.

Mrs. Asher was a member of the Shady Grove Baptist church. She possessed a lovely spirit and was a consistent Christian. Her body was interred in the Shady Grove cemetery Wednesday in the presence of many loving friends.

Mrs. Florence Ewing, who was engaged in the millinery business here last season has returned to Princeton where she will be associated with her former employer through the holidays and winter season. Mrs. Ewing has made many friends during her stay here and they will be pleased to know that she will likely continue her millinery business here when the next season arrives.

Gasoline Explosion.

Joe Lense, a business man of Blackford, was severely and perhaps fatally burned Monday evening by the explosion of a can of gasoline, says our Blackford correspondent. It appears that Lense was kindling up a fire at his place of business. He got a can and was in the act of pouring what he supposed to be kerosene on the fire when the can exploded in his hands. Lense's clothes were all saturated with the oil and ignited, and he made for the street. Tom Clark, a bystander, caught at him and attempted to smother the flames as he ran for the street. However, the flames were soon smothered by persons in the vicinity of the accident. The mistake in taking the title, is a well written piece bubbling over with that superior merit necessary to long life, while its staging is both gorgeous and faultlessly correct. There are two features alone, to say nothing of seven log specialty acts, one of which is a sensational automobile race, ending in a terrible explosion and a dash to death with a load of human freight in full view of the audience. The other is a train effect far more sensational and superior in every respect to the one made famous in the "Heart of Chicago." Kilroy & Britton have surrounded themselves with a most capable acting company, and their appearance here on Thursday, December 22nd, should be greeted with a packed house.

Sold to Lowenthal & Co.

J. W. Givens & Son who have been in the butcher business here for several years have sold out to Lowenthal & Co., of Evansville. Givens & Son were enjoying a good patronage and this transfer will come as a surprise to their friends, especially since this is the first time that J. W. Givens has been out of the butcher business in twenty-five years. Guy Givens, who has looked after the shop for some time will remain with Lowenthal & Co., and possibly J. W. Givens will deal in stock or engage in farming.

"An Aristocratic Tramp."

Kilroy & Britton, who have for several seasons been the one big feature with the "Heart of Chicago," will this season be seen in a new success styled "An Aristocratic Tramp," a comedy-drama from the pen of Lem B. Parker. The play, unlike the average tramp show one would naturally confound with the title, is a well written piece bubbling over with that superior merit necessary to long life, while its staging is both gorgeous and faultlessly correct. There are two features alone, to say nothing of seven

"An Aristocratic Tramp," a dollar show at popular prices, and if you are not satisfied with the performance you can have your money back. If we fail to please you we don't want your money; we guarantee to do this. Yours for a good show, Kilroy and Britton. The attraction is booked for Thursday evening at the Opera House. Date, December 22nd.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT

Shows a Big Deficit Because of Rural Delivery Expense.

Because of the great increase in rural mail routes, the postoffice department shows an increased deficiency of 92.53 per cent. over the previous year. According to the reports of Assistant Postmasters General Madden and Bristow it is estimated that $500,000 will be needed immediately to continue operation of established routes during the remainder of the fiscal year, and an appropriation of $3,000,000 will be asked with which to establish new routes during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906.

Mr. Bristow reports that by next June approximately 32,500 rural routes will be in operation. During the fiscal year ending last June there were 5,587 postoffices discontinued, because of the rural delivery, and 2,549 established. The saving in postmasters' salaries aggregated $171,121.

Mr. Madden declares in his report that as soon as the establishment of the rural delivery system is completed the department will be self-sustaining for the first time since 1883.

A Frightened Horse.

Running like mad down the street, dumping the occupants, or a hundred other accidents, are every day occurrences. It behooves everybody to have a reliable Salve handy and there's none as good as Bucklen's Anion Salve. Burns, Cuts, Sores, Rashes, and Piles disappear quickly under its soothing effect. 25c. at Haynes' drug store.

Another One.

A few weeks ago we noticed a letter from Mr. Spectator in The Evening giving its readers his opinion of the Tolu ball team. Now, we feel it our duty to answer Spectator, stating our side of this case.

It seems to us that Mr. Spectator has tried to impress on the minds of the people that the members of the Tolu ball team are a set of rascals and has gone so far as to compare them with the "sons" of Elizabethtown, Ill.

But we can say we have never been guilty of rascality, or at least it has never been proved on us and your statement, Mr. Spectator, will have to be corroborated before it can be believed, even by the people of your own locality. We still consider ourselves gentlemen. If we did associate with you and your team of "country kids."

We admit that we had some of Elizabethtown's players with us. Why? Because we had been reliably informed that three of Marion's best ball players had been engaged to play that game with you and we had only four available men on that day and we either had to manufacture or import players for that game. But on arrival at Levas we failed to see any of the Marion players. We are still wondering if they refused to associate with you.

We have heard since that the second team from Marion had played at Levas and were also defeated. Where was the spectator? We've heard from them and here is what they say:

"Any team that plays Levas and their umpire successfully, will have to have imported players such as McGinnity, of the New York Nationals, or Young, of the Boston Americans."

What a compliment!

We were defeated at Levas and defeated badly, but in regard to that we have nothing to say, but we have been wondering and have yet come to no definite conclusion as to why Mr. Spectator has gone so far and made such bold assertions that we boys of the Tolu ball team are an ungentlemanly set and are lacking that good quality so essential to manhood and good citizenship.

Now, Mr. Spectator, we are sure you have done yourself a personal injury. Especially has your veracity suffered a severe shock, which is more than apt to be criticised by some people.

Although we live in a nice little burg, we are but "country kids" and, as far as baseball is concerned, nothing but raw recruits. But most of us are of legal age, therefore—be governed accordingly.

You have made a great fuss about Tolu importing players, but where did you get your pitcher? Is he one of you? As you referred to him striking some of the Tolu boys out, we will also compliment him. But was he not imported too? Say!

We will now ring off leaving a standing invitation for you to bring your "country kids" and give us another chance. When the winter has passed away come on. Though it may still be a little cool, we promise that we will make it as warm for you as possible.

In regard to your remarks we trust the people, especially the ball teams of the surrounding towns may consider the source.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contains Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle.

IN LAST ELECTION

The Vote Was Much Smaller Than in Previous Election.

New York, Dec. 12.—The official canvass by States of the votes in the recent presidential election, which is now nearly complete, shows some startling results, which even the most astute politicians failed to foresee.

Undoubtedly the greatest surprise is found in the fact that the total of the popular vote was less than in 1900. From the latest figures, most of which are official, it is found that Roosevelt received 7,702,120 votes and Parker 7,119,701. In 1900 McKinley had 7,217,810. Thus Roosevelt's gain over McKinley's vote was 484,310, while Parker's loss from the Bryan vote was approximately three times that figure, or 1,238,122. This shows that the combined vote for Roosevelt and Parker totaled 12,821,881, which was 753,752 less than the combined vote for McKinley and Bryan in 1900. Add 600,000 for the Socialist vote, and the total is still about 350,000 short of the total vote of all parties in 1900, which was 13,961,593.

Out of the entire list of States there were only three in which the Roosevelt vote was smaller than McKinley's and Parker's greater than Bryan's. These were Georgia, Mississippi and South Carolina. In eight States, Alabama, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia, both Parker and Roosevelt received fewer votes than Bryan and McKinley, respectively. In four, Delaware, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and West Virginia, Parker's vote was larger than Bryan's and Roosevelt's larger than McKinley's. In the other thirty Roosevelt had more votes than McKinley, and Parker less than Bryan.

STREET CARS

Seem Destined to be Supplanted by the Automobile.

"In the course of a few years there will not be a street car track in all New York."

Such is the prophecy of a mechanical expert who, the Manufacturers' Record says, has built and run a more street railways than any other man in the country.

The same authority declares that, owing to the cost of changes in methods and systems, which inventive ingenuity has, ever since the passing of the horse car, been constantly forcing on the owners of street railways, it is doubtful whether as many as five per cent. of these have been operated at a bona fide profit.

Take, for instance, the cable as a means of propulsion. Its life is but a breath. Its installation and subsequent abolition cost the owners of the many street railways much as could be legitimately earned in 10 years of operation. Its replacement by electricity, involving changes in power plants, conduits and general equipment, cost enough in most cases to eat up the earnings of another decade, even with skillful management and growing traffic.

The process has been repeated time and again in different cities throughout the country. In New York one of the most perfect cable systems in the country was in operation only five years when it was supplanted by electricity. The trouble having been reported, the boards put this company out of business, forcing it into bankruptcy, the investors losing millions of dollars. Now the city has passed orders for automobile operation to be operated on its perfect streets.

In London, Birmingham, Philadelphia and New York, the cable cars are being followed by rapid installation of automobile operation.

Years of expensive street car lines in Los Angeles, Cal., are now being followed by rapid installation of automobile operation.

The way has been paved for the change in New York through the recent construction of nearly 1,000 miles of asphalt streets.

A few years ago there were no automobiles. During the last 12 months the automobile output of this country exceeded in value all the locomotives built in America by $20,000,000, and the industry is rapidly out of its infancy.

The trolley car and the draft horse may go together.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank the people for the kindness shown us through the illness and death of our beloved daughter.

Mrs. A. M. CONGER AND FAMILY.

The price of wire has advanced, but we will sell all of the car load just received at the same low prices.
